Solution Brief: Where's Betty??

The Situation:
It's Friday at 9:00 am. Payroll needs to be run and sent to the payroll processor no later than noon (even though the pay date isn't until Wednesday) and nobody's seen Betty the Payroll Clerk!

The Impact:
The vast majority of payroll processors require that payrolls be run at least three business days prior to the pay date, or your employees simply will not be paid on time. Regardless of when they cut the checks, these processors will debit your payroll account so that they can make money off the interest.

How We Can Help:
iProcess Online offers a unique hybrid solution that's a combination of the best available HRIS and Payroll technology and a team of hands-on professionals who are there to help if something goes awry. At iProcess we assign our customers a dedicated team of professionals who are experienced and credentialed, hold college degrees and professional certifications. Pros that can step in and grab the wheel whenever it becomes necessary, ensuring that your payroll is done right and your people are paid on-time, all for less than you're currently paying for payroll alone.

Keystroke error? While your current processor follows a "garbage in, garbage out" model, we provide a sanity check.

The choice is yours whether you prefer to process your own payroll in-house or have our team of professionals do it for you; should Betty take a powder, we've got you covered.

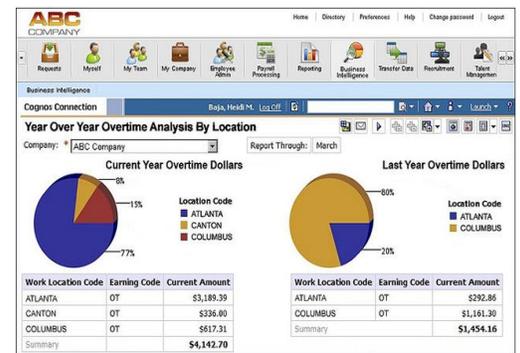

"iProcess Online provided me an Enterprise HRIS and payroll platform and an army of support for less than I paid ADP just to print checks. This is a no-brainer."
